Asian Regional Association for Home Economics (ARAHE)

May 26, 2025

Carlito D. Rocafort, CESO III
Director IV
DepEd SOCCSKSARGEN

Dear RD Rocafort:

The Asian Regional Association for Home Economics (ARAHE) was established to provide Asian Home Economists and allied professionals with opportunities to come together and discuss current issues related to the discipline from an Asian perspective. As a regional organization of the International Federation for Home Economics (IFHE), ARAHE serves as a platform for collaboration and knowledge exchange.

ARAHE will hold its 22nd Biennial International Congress on August 7-10, 2025, at the Manila Prince Hotel. With the theme "Empowering Future Generations: Home Economics in the Age of Advanced Technology", it aims to:

- (1) explore the integration of advanced technologies in home economics practices that enhance family wellbeing, including smart home innovations, digital tools for household management, and AI-assisted systems that support everyday living;
- (2) to promote digital literacy and innovative teaching strategies in Home Economics education by showcasing emerging technologies such as virtual reality, data analytics, and interactive platforms that personalize and enrich the learning experience for future practitioners; and
- (3) to foster critical dialogue on sustainability, cultural values, and societal issues by addressing the ethical use of technology, encouraging green consumption practices, and examining the impact of digital environments on family dynamics, interpersonal relationships, and community.

Relative to the foregoing, we would like to request you to send your delegation at the above-mentioned educational undertaking.

For further information, kindly follow this link: arahe.org.ph and thank you for giving this matter your affirmative response.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Albert W. Roscarda
